

---

INSTRUCTION FOR AUTHORS

International Journal of Biomedical Soft Computing and Human Sciences

English Journal of Biomedical Fuzzy Systems Association

---

International Journal of Biomedical Soft Computing and Human Sciences (IJBSCHS) is an international journal that publishes original research and review papers concerned with the application of fuzzy, neuro, chaos, genetic algorithms and other novel engineering methodologies to the biomedical field including analysis and modeling for human sciences including analysis, modeling, cases and applications. IJBSCHS publishes twice a year.

THE JOURNAL FEATURES

Full-length Paper: High-quality, peer-reviewed research investigations that represent new and significant contributions to the field. Full-length paper should be six Journal pages or more.

Short-length Paper: Exceptionally important new research results for which rapid publication is justified. Manuscripts four or five Journal pages will be considered for short-length papers.

Invited Papers: As solicited by the editorial office.

Letters to the Editor: Presenting comments on papers published in the journal and other matters of interest to the association members.

Special Issue: Covering various topics of interest to association members.

Papers describing biological, medical and human scientific instrumentation for and/or in soft computing will be also considered, if the designs represent the best current biomedical and human scientific practice, and detailed performance characteristics are included.

TOPICS INCLUDE

Theoretical Fields: application of new theories or methodologies to the biomedical field, such as combining theories on knowledge engineering, fuzzy, neural networks, chaotic, genetic algorithms.

Applied Fields: fundamental medicine, clinical medicine, dentistry, nursing, eastern medicine, medicine on health and welfare, engineering on radio-isotope, emotion and psychology, face expression and other human sciences.

REVIEW PROCESS

Submit four copies of the manuscript or the Email manuscript by attached file, to the Editor of the International Journal listed below. The manuscript received before January 15th will be published in the journal in a May issue if it is accepted in the standard review process, and before August 15th in a December issue. If the manuscript would take more review process so as to be accepted for its publication, it would be published in the next issue. The Editor will complete the review process of the manuscript. During the reviewing process, the Editor will correspond with the author directly advising him/her of necessary steps to be taken for the processing of the manuscript, and will notify the author of the decision respecting the manuscript.

PAGE CHARGE POLICY

Page charge of ¥5,000 per monochrome page or ¥10,000 per color page is mandatory for any journal page. The authors will receive 50 free reprints. And additional reprints can be ordered in multiples 50 at ¥10,000.

CONTRIBUTED ARTICLE SUBMISSION:

Manuscripts for all sections should be sent to the journal office, then please make sure your manuscript is clearly indicated which one such as a full-length paper, a short-length paper and so on.

Submission: submit-e@bmfsa.org, the journal office of IJBSCHS.

The journal staff sends an acknowledgement of manuscript receipt within 10days. Please inquire about your manuscript submission when you do not have received the acknowledgement receiving.